machinery will be used and the company has a capacity of laying one mile a day. This is the first time that pipe laying machinery has ever been used in this part of the country. Standard Oil, in doing pipe line work lays the pipe by hand. With a capacity of one mile a day it will require 168 working days to complete the line. Winter is coming on and it is reasonable to presume that there will be many days when outside work cannot be done on account of cold and rain. However, the Roxana people stated some time ago that it did not expect the line to be completed before the middle of February, and by that time the line should be completed, the pump station installed and have it ready to begin making runs from Healdton to the refinery owned at Cushing by the Roxana company.

BROADENS EXTENSION.

Gunsburg & Forman Have a Well in Section 13.

It will be interesting to the oil fraternity to know that the Gunsburg-Forman well in 13-4-3 went into an oil sand at 1360 feet and that the sand had a thickness of 45 feet. This well is located in the center of the west line of the section and reports from it have been unfavorable all the way down until the sand was entered. It broadens the southeast extension and adds much wealth to that portion of the field. The well gives the Gates Oil company an offset which will be drilled at once.

MAHONEY RECEIVES PROMOTION

Popular Healdton Scout for Prairie People Transferred to Tulsa.

D. R. Mahoney, who since June 5 has been here doing scout work for the Prairie Oil and Gas company, left today for Tulsa. He will make Tulsa his headquarters and will work in the Blackwell, Garber and Enid districts.

While the change made in his work is a promotion for him, yet he was reluctant about going. Mr. Mahoney came down here from Boston, but he is so generous in his nature and so congenial in disposition that he has surrounded himself with a host of friends, and they are friends with whom he regrets to part. He states that he never saw a people he likes quite so well as the Ardmore people, and he would have been content to have lived here always. The new work will open for him broader opportunities and his friends here wish him every success. When his successor is sent to Healdton Mr. Mahoney will accompany him to show him about over the field, introduce him to the live ones about Healdton and aid him in starting off his work in the right manner.

No Ardmore scout ever made more friends than Robert Mahoney, and they will sincerely regret to see him transferred.

SAW BURGLAR
IN HER HOME
AND SCREAMED

THAT WAS THE NATURAL THING FOR A WOMAN TO DO SAID MRS. TOM ROBERTS. TURNED BURGLAR LOOSE.

"I have been looking for a burglar a long time," said Mrs. Tom Roberts "and I finally ran across one of the varmints. Screams. Why certainly I screamed, what else would you expect a woman to do? But after screaming my senses came to me and I was about as calm as usual. You men laugh but you get scared worse than a woman. If some man had found a burglar he would have wanted to shoot him. I saw the other side of it. That burglar which entered my home Saturday evening late was a boy, a stripling of a lad about 15 years old. I did not want to see him killed. I did not want to see him punished. I wanted to show him that there is plenty of sympathy and plenty of work if he will only make himself worthy of that help."

When Mrs. Tom Roberts came in home Saturday evening she entered her room and was changing her clothing. She looked to a hall rack upon which hung a number of cloaks and coats that belonged to members of the family. She saw a pair of feet. Thinking that her son had prepared a little scare for her she made no alarm. But she kept looking in that direction. She saw the feet that stood beneath the cloaks had legs attached to them, she looked more closely and she saw hands. Then she realized that the hands moved and she knew that no dummy could have real live moving hands and she did just like most other women would have done, she screamed. But after she screamed she spoke to the youngster and invited him out. He still stood there. She walked over to him and removed the clothing. There stood in front of her a beardless boy who had entered her home. She made him turn his pockets wrong side out to see if he had taken anything. She found nothing. Then she lectured him and let him go. The boy said he wanted work, that he thought he heard an invitation to come in when he knocked on the door, and no sooner had he entered the house than the car drove up and he did not have any time to do any plundering. If that was his object, which it undoubtedly was, Mrs. Roberts saw the same boy standing on the street corner yesterday with a cigar between his lips. His home, he said, was west of Ardmore and he came here to get work.
